Update on IOYouth Recommendations

Council of State Governments and Judicial Branch Court Support Services Division
IOYouth Update

Juvenile Probation Services-led Projects – Tasha Hunt

1. Goal: Ensure court diversion and case handling decisions are based on a youth’s assessed risk of reoffending and needs, rather than the nature of the offense

   a. Develop a risk and needs screening tool and procedures to guide court diversion and case handling decisions
   b. Divert low risk youth away from formal court involvement
   c. Preserve court time and resources for the highest risk youth
d. Use objective, data informed risk screening to reduce the disparate treatment of youth of color within the juvenile justice system

e. Match youth pre and post-disposition with the most appropriate level, type and quality of supervision and services to reduce future re-offending

f. Ensure youth repair any harm caused to victims and communities through restorative justice practices

g. Identify risk screening quality assurance measures for ongoing monitoring
IOYouth Update

2. Goal: Increase family engagement and involvement throughout all phases of a youth’s court involvement

   a. Implement key principles of family engagement in Juvenile Probation policies and procedures to increase youth and family engagement from intake to discharge
   b. Identify family engagement quality assurance measures for ongoing monitoring
   c. Establish Family Engagement Specialists to support probation clients and their families and strengthen the partnership with Juvenile Probation
   d. Develop child and family teaming and safety planning procedures as a precursor to violations of court orders
IOYouth Update

Programs and Services-led Projects - Julie Revaz

1. Goal: Ensure that the JB CSSD’s continuum of contracted services remains well aligned with the current needs of the youth it serves, and is achieving recidivism reduction and other goals
   a. Document key indicators of program performance as a means of identifying opportunities to expand/contract/adjust the service array
IOYouth Update

2. Goal: Ensure that the procurement / contracting process is functioning optimally for the acquisition of juvenile programming

   a. Internal Process: Offer training to streamline and improve RFP writing, and consider additional training to ensure efficient and effective proposal review.

   b. External Process: Explore the possibility of offering “generic” training to potential bidders and other external stakeholders, to make RFPs known to small / grassroots organizations, and provide general information about bid preparation.
IOYouth Update

3. Goal: Identify strengths as well as issues/barriers that exist for vendors working with the Judicial Branch CSSD to serve the juvenile population, with particular focus on treatment matching, client engagement / dosage, coordination of care, and the service array

a. Conduct focus groups with Directors of current juvenile programs to discuss strengths/weaknesses of the current system
IOYouth Update

Residential Services-led Projects – Cathy Foley Geib

1. Goal: Ensure that the Detention Risk Screening Instrument instituted in January 2017 is functioning correctly

   a. Analyze 3 years of data
   b. Make adjustments as indicated by the analysis
   c. Automate the screen to capture all data and provide ongoing analysis
IOYouth Update

2. Goal: Limit the use of Detention and address RED

   a. Develop Alternatives to Detention Matrix/Decision-making Guide to safely divert from detention by mitigating risk to public safety
   b. Expand alternative intervention options through better utilization of existing resources and cross-system collaboration
   c. Partner with Law Enforcement and DCF to safely divert from detention IOYouth Update

3. Goal: Development of Detention Data Dashboards

a. Pretrial Detention Dashboards to better align operations, policies, and outcomes that cross Juvenile Residential Services, Probation Services, and Programs & Services.

b. Dashboards will inform stakeholder ad hoc data requests and the Annual Report will be posted to Judicial website.
c. Frequency and Focus of Dashboards

i. Weekly: Timely identification of clients with unique needs or delayed discharge ii. Biweekly: Timely identification of facility use, problems, and population well-being
iii. Monthly: Review of facility use, incidents, interventions, and access to family, services, and programs iv. Quarterly: Trends related to utilization, incidents, interventions, access to services and programs, and youth and staff well-being
v. Annual Report: Utilization, youth served, services provided, staff wellness, and operational costs
