JUVENILE REVIEW BOARDS

- A Juvenile Review Board (JRB) is a community-based diversion program for youth who may otherwise be referred to the Juvenile Court for minor violations of the law. The Youth Service Bureau (YSB) model has been successfully used for the past 50+ years in Connecticut.

- The purpose of diversion is to redirect youth from involvement in the formal juvenile court system in an effort to hold youth accountable for their behavior without resorting to legal sanctions, court oversight, or the threat of confinement to mitigate future risk and subsequent delinquent behavior.

- The first JRB was created in Enfield, CT in 1968.

- There are approximately 90 JRBs serving over 135 communities.

- Most JRBs fall under the umbrella of the YSB and only 10% are run by other entities.
JUVENILE REVIEW BOARDS

• Amount of funding for JRBs varies greatly
• More than half of JRBs are not funded but may use a portion of their YSB grant
• 3 JRBs (Bridgeport, Hartford, New Haven) are fully funded by DCF
• Approximately 34 JRBs in FY 20 received smaller amounts of funding from DCF for Support and Enhancement (ranging from $1,725 to $31,650)
• In FY 2022, 10 more JRBs were identified to apply for Support and Enhancement dollars for their JRB (28 currently funded through CYSA with DCF dollars and 10 more now eligible; and several more in the Waterbury region are funded with additional DCF dollars outside of CYSA)
